COUNTY FINANCES

In an attack upon the present Levy Court, for what it calls "Increased Expenditures," the Every Evening calls attention to the fact that in three of the rural Districts the expense of maintaining the roads, bridges and other county work show an increase, while in two of them a decrease is noted. Quoting from Every Evening;

"The following table shows the expenditures for each year:

	1903–04	1904–05
Third District	$3,990 85	$ 2,626 25
Fourth District	3,734 48	5,563 73
Fifth District	4,824 31	10,302 53
Sixth District	1,314 59	4,649 49
Seventh District	1,057 22	807 06
Totals,	$14,921 45	$23,922 06.
		$9,000 61.

This increase is made up as follows:

Fourth District, $1,802.25; fifth, $5,478.22; sixth, $3,334.90; total, $10,615.37.

Decrease, third district, $1,364.60; seventh, $250.16; total, $1,614.76.

Net increase, $9,000.61.

* * * * * * *

It is not possible to explain, therefore, for what purpose the increased expenditures were required. That the increase was marked, will be seen from the figures. The increase in the Fourth District was nearly 50 per cent.; in the Fifth District it was more than 100 per cent.; in the Sixth District it was nearly 300 per cent."

THE TRANSCRIPT is not advised any more than is Every Evening what makes up the increase in the Districts, but as the expenditures for this kind of work, aggregate only about 7 per cent. of the total expenditures of the year, and the increase to less than 3 per cent., it is plainly evident that these amounts will have to be largely increased, before the "boogyman" of increased taxes becomes a reality.

We do feel, however, that the increase in the Sixth District, comprising Pencader and St. Georges, and the decrease in the Seventh District, comprising Appoquinimink and Blackbird Hundreds, can be partially explained, even without the aid of detailed figures other than shown in the report of the Auditors. It will be recalled that the present Commissioner from this, the Sixth District, Mr. Salmon followed Mr. John G. Armstrong, a Democrat elected from the old Fifth District, comprising St. Georges, Appoquinimink and Blackbird Hundreds. During his entire term THE TRANSCRIPT called attention to the fact that the work of the District was being neglected and the Commissioner was making a record for low expenditures. This was done, and necessarily so, at the expense of the county's work. Roads and bridges cannot be neglected without damage. A little hole not attended to at the right time soon develops into a bigger one. Many instances have been cited by THE TRANSCRIPT in the past. On the other hand, Mr. Scott, in the Seventh District, followed Mr. Willits, who made a reputation for careful conscientious work. The roads in that District were attended to at the time repairs were needed; the bridges were kept painted and repaired. So, when Mr. Scott assumed charge, he found all that was necessary to be done, was to keep up current repairs, while Mr. Salmon not only had this to do, but also to catch up for the neglect of the past four years. We have no doubt that the next year's report from the Sixth District will show a decided decrease.

HOW TO CURE SOME FATAL CASES

"Everybody worked but father" in the Sparrow household, and there were ten of them counting Mrs. S. and the children. Father Sparrow suffered from the White Plague and nervous "dyspepsy," complicated by perpetual spring fever, and chronic appetite. Idella, eldest daughter, came back to the poverty-and-father-stricken household and made up her mind to disabuse her father's system of his fatal complaints. How she succeeded is the story of "Idella and the White Plague," by Joseph C. Lincoln in the May McClure's. Lincoln is always funny, but there is a laugh in every page of this story.

Three Fine Pictures Given Away

For the next three Sundays, all people who buy the great Philadelphia Sunday Press, will get a fine picture suitable for framing. Many newspaper picture supplements are only cheap chromos. These are not. You never see a Sunday Press picture thrown away. It is a work of art. Sunday Press pictures cost more to make than any other pictures and people frame them. Are you reading the new Anthony Hope novel in The Philadelphia Sunday Press Your newsdealer will supply you.

THEY WANT PRINCIPALS AND MEN

MR. EDITOR:—The ramshorn of discontent is being tuled by the discordant elements of the Republicans of Wilmington and the political ethics resolves into itself interest. They remind me of an old illiterate colored devine who discoursed on the parables at campmeeting.

He took for his text "And a Buffalo Bull went into Jerusalem, clumb a hickory pole sixty feet high, tale foremost and kicked off a robbin's nest," and I think if he had inverted his ascent he would better demonstrate the opinion of the independent voters.

Another parable put forth by the devine was "The three children Powder, Shot and Indigo." He said they were thrown into a hogshead of biling water and they were saved. Now the citizens of Wilmington have been served with three as good citizens as the State can produce, Gov. Lee, Conrad and Clark, and if they escape political condemnity they need have no fear of the millennial. In his conclusion on the parables the devine said "An injin come all the way from New Haven, took a live calf by the tail and jerked it out of its halter," and with a literal construction of the parable I think if an angel should light in Wilmington and consult the different elements it would return with the message that the politics of the city is vanity! vanity! The thinking voters of the party have become tired of these political bickerings, and believe that some inherent rights belong to them, and are manifesting a desire to vote for principals and men who know how to give wise counsel.
